Germans Have Blackest Day In Five Years

Brest Litovsk Last Big Barrier Before Polish Capital Gives Up

LONDON, July 28—Brest Litovsk, last great fortress position before Warsaw, was abandoned to the on-rushing Russian armies to-day along with Kaunas in Lithuania, Berlin announced.

Soviet troops charged within 30 miles of the Polish capital. In a 17-mile advance beyond the San river, they penetrated to a point 128 miles from German Silesia.

Brest Litovsk and Kaunas gave the Russians 10 major triumphs in 24 hours as they whipped through the Baltic states, Poland and the Carpathian foothills toward East Prussia, German Silesia and Czechoslovakia.

The German high command announced the evacuation of Brest Litovsk and soon afterward the Transocean agency admitted the loss of Kaunas, the old capital of Lithuania.

Berlin 340 Miles Away
Nearest Russian troops were within 340 miles of Berlin itself with the capture of Garwolin, 30 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Other Russian triumphs were announced in a record spurge of orders of the day by Marshal Stalin coloring Moscow's skies with many colored flares for five hours until midnight.

These were the victories:

1. Brest Litovsk.
2. Kaunas, former capital of Lithuania.
3. Lvov, third city of old Poland and one of Europe's greatest rail centers.
4. Siauliai, third city of Lithuania.
5. Daugavpils, third city of Latvia with 45,160 population.
6. Bialystok, 110 miles northeast of Warsaw.
7. Stanislawow, guardian city to Czechoslovakia and Hungary.
8. Rezekne, a railroad junction in Latvia, 52 miles northeast of captured Daugavpils.
9. Garwolin, a rail center, 30 miles southeast of Warsaw.
10. Siedlce, another rail center 50 miles due east of Warsaw where street fighting was in progress.

Blackest Day for Germans

All these tremendous achievements gave Germany her blackest day of the nearly five years of war. The conquests were never matched in the peaks of the German blitzkrieg (lightning war).

The picture was one of German collapse along a meandering front of 1,000 miles from the wooded shores of the Gulf of Finland — an arm of the Baltic sea — to the Carpathians. Both northeast and (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Medical Case of Dr. Rodeman Found

Sedalia police have received a report the medical case of Dr. J. M. Rodeman, which was in his Oldsmobile club coupe, stolen last Wednesday night from near the Bothwell hospital, has been found at Sedan, Kas. It is believed the bag had been tossed from the car by one who stole the machine. A report received stated there were blood stains about it indicating some of its bandages or medicine may have been used.

The car was last seen in Ozark, Mo., south of Springfield where the occupants obtained gasoline. It was then taken over country roads and headed west through Kansas on highway 166. No further information regarding the car has been learned, other than the medical grip being located.

Police and state highway patrol authorities are convinced the car was taken by the five boys who escaped from the Missouri Training school at Booneville, last Tuesday night.

Their B-24 Liberator was jumped by six Nip fighters. As the ship approached the target, the control cables were seriously damaged by enemy flak. Sixteen Zekes, Hamps and Tonys were waiting for the kill when the big ship came out of the ack ack. Manning his gun at the waist position, Clayton helped hold the enemy fighters at a distance.

In these letters he stated he was well and was having some exceptional experiences.

Rubber and Tires Critical Need Now For Armed Forces

By Robert A. Suits
FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo., July 28—(AP)—Fifty million dollars worth of war-time army supplies were disposed of last month by the army service forces and future disposals toward peace time reconversion will be made through established trade channels, Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, ASF commanding general, said last night.

"The moment Germany's defeated a special supply program will be put into effect," he stated. Interviewed at a three-day conference of 250 high ranking officers and chiefs of ASF technical services, the general said most surplus materials will be handled by the Surplus War Property Administrator and capital goods by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the procurement division of the treasury.

Ten Japanese Ships Sunk by US Task Force

Skies in West Carolines Cleared Of Enemy Planes

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 28—(AP)—The sinking of 10 Japanese ships and leveling of defenses in the Western Carolines by an American task force, which cleared the skies of Nip planes in a day, pointed the finger of offensive today at the Philippines.

The two-day attack of carrier planes, just disclosed by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, was centered on Palau, once formidable naval base less than 600 miles east of Mindanao.

Today Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced his bombers in a simultaneous operation swooped on an enemy convoy off Truk, another enemy naval base in the Central Carolines, setting afire and probably sinking a freighter and three lugger-type craft.

These sinkings, which included a destroyer, increased to more than 50 the shipping losses—from merchantmen to aircraft carrier—Japan has suffered since the invasion of the Marianas opened a little over a month ago.

Add 26 Destroyed Planes
Nimitz' announcement of the task force strike added 26 to the more than 1,000 Nip planes destroyed in that time.

While these new successes sapped enemy strength along the way to Manila, ground forces spread out over more of Guam and Tinian, seeking to add them to Saipan as springboards of assault on the Philippines and Japan.

Members of Congress Air Views on Nazi Crack-up

By Don Wyndman

WASHINGTON, July 28—(AP)—Talk of the chances for an early victory over Germany swept optimistically through the congress membership today, moderated by advice from Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) that this is no time to get happily excited.

McCormack, Democratic leader in the house, sent word from Boston that "I am amazed at Senator Vandenberg's (R-Mich) forecast of an early German collapse." He added: "This is not the time for responsible political leaders to build up an expectation of an early return to the ways of peace. It is rather the time to inspire a grim determination to go forward and win the war."

Vandenberg had said that the "chances for an early German collapse are sufficiently encouraging" to make it urgent for congress to act on bills for reconversion of industry from war uses. He has summoned Republican senators to a conference next Tuesday, when congress ends its summer recess.

Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military affairs committee, ventured the forecast that Germany would capitulate by December 1. Senator Thomas (D-Okla) head of the senate subcommittee

Bulgaria also was reported negotiating with the Allies, including the United States, with the object of getting out of the war.

Destructive Blow at Nazi Oil Resources

Three Thousand U. S. Planes Strike Heart of Reich

By Austin Bealmear
LONDON, July 28—(AP)—American air forces hurled more than 3,000 planes today at dwindling German oil resources, striking synthetic fuel plants at Merseburg in the heart of the Reich and the rich Ploesti oil fields in Romania. Half the force was heavy bombers striking from both England and Italy.

Other flights of tactical aircraft returned to the Normandy front yesterday. The tactical units destroyed or damaged at least 105 Nazi tanks.

Around 1,000 Flying Fortresses with an equal number of fighters bombed the Luena synthetic oil plants at Merseburg, for the third time this month, and other central German targets.

Merseburg is on the Saale river west of Leipzig and is an important rail junction. The Germans said nearby Halle and Dessau also were attacked aimed great air battles.

Destroy Military Trains

The Russians said they again bombed the East Prussian rail center of Tilsit, destroying five military trains and setting "dozens of fires." The Russians said they destroyed 42 German planes.

At Ploesti, the Germans attempted to make their own clouds by creating a dense smoke screen. The assaults were launched despite continuation of the cloudy weather which has restricted air operations over the Normandy (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Through Blazing Canisy With 'Gas'

By Hal Boyle

WITH AN AMERICAN ARMORED COLUMN BEYOND CANISY, July 27—(Delayed)—American supply trucks loaded with gasoline ran a gauntlet of fire at 50 miles an hour through flaming Canisy today to refuel tanks spearheading U. S. forces which cracked the German lines.

Capt. William M. Lawler, San Francisco, who himself surprised and captured five Germans in a Nazi command post, told how drivers risked their lives in a daring ride through the French village, set afire during the battle.

"Canisy really was ablaze," he said. "Rafters and timbers were crashing across the highway at an intersection in the center of town and there was barely room to get past. Even our tanks had to button up turrets as they went by."

"Maj. Robert Crust of St. Paul, Minn., had a column of 30 trucks carrying gasoline up to the front line tanks and he had to get them through no matter what the cost."

on military appropriations, commented: "I don't see how Germany can last through the rest of this year."

Other Crack-up Views
Some other views on war developments:

Senator Wagner (D-NY): "My feeling is the crackup will come very suddenly, when it comes. When generals in the German army show signs of being ready to quit, there must be the same kind of feeling in the ranks."

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn): "It's just a question of a little more time with Germany; I don't see how they've stood up this long."

Much less hopeful were statements this week by Secretary of War Stimson, Navy Secretary Forrestal and Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the fleet.

Stimson said after his battlefront inspection tour that the end of the European war "is not yet apparent" to the troops doing the fighting, and deplored talk of a "quick victory." Forrestal reminded a press conference there is "still a long way to go" in the Pacific war, and Admiral King cautioned that the fall of Premier Tojo didn't mean a weakening of Japanese resistance.

Salesman Makes Use Of Airport Here

Saves Time By Flying Down From Kansas City

The Municipal Airport was utilized Thursday by a traveling salesman, called to Sedalia on a business trip, in which time was a factor.

Julian B. Sorency of Richmond, representative of the Pratt-Lambert Paint Company, Kansas City, received a rush call from George Dugan of the Dugan Paint Company, in Sedalia, to come here Thursday. In the conversation Mr. Sorency told Mr. Dugan to have a taxi at the Sedalia airport between 9:45 and 10 o'clock.

Upon his arrival, Sorency related that he went to the Municipal Airport in Kansas City, rented a plane, left there about 9:20 o'clock and touched the local airport runways in 35 minutes. The taxi drove onto the field as he taxied up to his parking space.

Was Real Time Saver

Sorency said "it would have taken at least three hours to come here by automobile on war time speed in addition to completing my business here, transacting some more in Lexington, then continuing to my home in Richmond. It would be late at night before I got home. As it is I attended to early business in Kansas City, made the trip here in 35 minutes, will leave here this afternoon, attend to business in Lexington, and will be home hardly later than 6:30 o'clock this evening."

"I think Sedalia will have one of the best airports in the state for its size when completed. The (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

TODAY ON THE War Fronts

LONDON, July 28—(AP)—British submarines have destroyed 21 Japanese supply ships and other craft in far eastern waters recently, and have damaged several other vessels with torpedoes and gunfire, the admiralty announced today.

LONDON, July 28—(AP)—There has been considerable public speculation here that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., former commander of the U. S. Seventh army in Italy, may be leading American tank forces which have cracked the German lines in Normandy.

Nothing has been said officially about the whereabouts of Patton, who arrived in Britain some time before the invasion, but the Germans have reported him in France.

State Surplus In Treasury

Need for Strict Economies is Still Stressed

JEFFERSON CITY, July 28—(P)—A record surplus of $16,900,000 in the state treasury at the end of this year was forecast today by Edward Staples, executive director of the Missouri public expenditure survey.

He accompanied his prediction, however, with this warning: "There must not be increased spending simply because the money has accumulated."

"It is inevitable that there will be demands from spending groups that various uses be made of the surplus, including quite possibly one that it be used to raise old age assistance payments," said the head of the taxpayers' organization.

Economies Are Urged

"Large cash balances accumulated by unusual wartime economic conditions present grave dangers. They tend to lessen the will to economize in preparation for reduced revenues in the future and come to be regarded as grab bags by the spenders."

Staples suggested two uses for the state's piled-up wealth — cut (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Entrapment of Most of Nazis in North Normandy Front Impends

By Gladwin Hill
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 28—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's forces advanced to within two miles of Coutances in Normandy, and field dispatches predicted the fall soon of that city, a choke point for Germans attempting to escape from the Lessay and Periers areas.

The American tank breakthrough had plunged spearheads more than 11 miles deep into the heart of enemy defenses and mushroomed into a front 17 miles broad behind the enemy flanks, threatening entrapment of most of the German troops in the western half of the Normandy front.

American fliers supporting the breakthrough said the Germans falling back through the Coutances bottleneck were in greater disorder than during Marshal Erwin Rommel's debacle in North Africa.

(The London public speculated that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., of Sicily fame, was leading this huge stream of men and armor pouring through the gap. London newspapers declared 50,000 to 75,000 Germans were now threatened with being caught in the pocket against the seacoast.)

Break Up Counter Thrust
While the Americans rapidly expanded the 100-mile Normandy line, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British and Canadian forces broke up one small German counterattack after another south of Caen.

With giant strides Bradley's six steaming spearheads appeared to have precipitated a broad German withdrawal.

One spearhead stabbed to Notre Dame de Caenilly on its left, taking that town 11 miles southwest of St. Lo and about the same distance from the jumpoff point in the offensive.

Here the Americans were nine miles southeast of Coutances, while other columns of the same movement spread along an eight-mile front were pointed at the city itself. The nearest was within gunfire of the only bridge affording escape at Coutances for the Germans.

Others pushed to Le Deshayes, six miles south of Marigny and to the Souilles woods, 3½ miles south of Canisy.

Two other spearheads closed in from the north from captured Lessay and Periers.

Possible Stand Planned

The Germans possibly were planning to make a stand behind the steep-buffed Soule and Sienn rivers which run inland through Coutances, but already such a line was threatened by three other spearheads shoving deep into German territory from the west and east of St. Lo.

Highballing down the highway from Normandy toward Brittany one column had reached a point within 1½ miles of Tassy-Sur-Vire, 10 miles south of St. Lo.

Another column was fanning out to the west. These twin spearheads southwest of St. Lo were aimed at Avranches, at the base of the Normandy peninsula and behind Coutances. Avranches is 30 miles below St. Lo.

Coming through Le Mesnil Herman, they were in position to swing west to join the forces driving on Coutances, or to veer east and join the sixth spearhead which had cleared a 13-mile stretch of the road running east from St. Lo to Caumont.

Bradley thus had put the Germans in the position every commander dreams of—stalled on a wide front by numerous forces which had a bewildering profusion of opportunities to converge, far out, encircle and cut off the opposing troops.

Mop Up Pockets

There was no authoritative indication of the number of Germans in the growing pocket. Supreme headquarters declined to discuss the number of German divisions facing the Americans in the fluid sectors.

But 12 divisions have been disclosed in action on 48 miles of the front, and seven to four might be jammed in the Coutances pocket.

Field dispatches said at least 3,000 prisoners were taken in the first two days of the offensive.

Nazi Army Reels in Fleeing to Warsaw

southeast of Warsaw, the Russians were on broad plains leading into the very heart of the reich and there were no major natural barriers between.

Upwards of 1,632 towns fell to more than 1,500,000 marching men in the front ranks of the eight great Soviet army groups. The advance was two miles an hour in places.

Moscow made no immediate estimate of fresh German casualties. Earlier in the week, a Moscow arrangement listed 580,000 Germans killed or captured since June 28 by five of the eight army groups alone. London estimated that at least 50,000 Germans had been besieged in the newly captured fortress cities; the final count may exceed that by many thousands.

The position on the Vistula river which flows through Warsaw still was obscure. The Russians had reached it on a wide front yesterday, and a Moscow dispatch said the 600-foot stream had been spanned.

Other victories were in the making.

Red troops were 65 miles south of the Latvian seaport capital of Riga at Pusalot.

At Lipsk, the Russians were within three miles of the Suwalki triangle, and within 25 miles of the old East Prussia border.

Przemysl, in the extreme south of old Poland just north of the Carpathians, was invested from three sides. Przemysl is on the Bucharest-Breslau-Berlin railroad.

The Russians were within 25 miles of Radom in Poland, 85 miles from the second largest Polish city of Lodz (pop. 665,200), 93 west of Poland's fifth city of Krakow (pop. 254,600) and at the very gates of Kolomyja in the Carpathian slopes in the south.

They invested Jaroslów, rail center which the Germans and they had evacuated nearly a week ago.

Along the Gulf of Finland the troops which took Narva were less than 100 miles from the Estonian capital of Tallinn, largest Estonian city and nearest Tartu, second city of Estonia.

Flee to Warsaw Suburbs

By Daniel De Luce

MOSCOW, July 28.—(P)—The beaten Germans fled to the suburbs of Warsaw today as Russian Cossacks and tanks surged against tabletop grain fields in a frontal assault, 30 miles from the Polish capital.

The struggle for Warsaw was only one of a series of climactic battles in which the Red army put the Nazis to rout in the Baltic republics, massed for an assault along half of East Prussia's entire frontier, spearheaded to within 140 miles of Germany proper and stormed the Carpathian gateway to Hungary.

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky developed the frontal attack on Warsaw from Garwolin, 30 miles southeast, sending the first wave of mounted and armored forces rolling backward on both sides of the main highway which runs parallel to the Vistula river.

Suicidal German snipers attempted to harass the advance, which front dispatches said had as yet encountered no fixed line of fortifications in the flat countryside.

Soviet fighter bombers scoured the area in a hunt for targets.

The second arm of Rokossovsky's combined Russian-Polish command was mopping up Siedlec, 50 miles east of Warsaw, and probing westward.

On Hitler's shattered eastern front from the forested shore of the Finnish gulf to the cloud-wrapped mountains girding the Danubian basin, there was no let-up in the Red army's annihilation campaign, masterminded by Premier Stalin.

The German armies in the Baltic republics now must be evacuated by sea. Severing of the trans-Baltic railway by Gen. Ivan Bagramian at the Lithuanian junction of Siauliai has effectively isolated the mauled German divisions in Latvia and Estonia.

Flee From Warsaw

NEW YORK, July 28.—(P)—The Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said in an article reported today to the office of war information that the flight of German officials and industries from Warsaw had assumed such proportions that assassinations of fleeing Germans by Polish patriots passed unheeded in the confusion.

George Hinner and Hans Marig, two German SS leaders known to have been "especially cruel to the Poles," were found slain yesterday, the newspaper said, and added:

"More and more office holders are disappearing, and it is not known whether they left or were assassinated by Polish patriots."

ting tax rates now, or building a still bigger surplus as a cushion against post-war drops in revenue collections.

"There are opportunities for economies in many places in the state," he said. "It is important that present increased revenues not be permitted to divert attention from the need for these economies."

Staples expressed his opinion that the legislature could not earmark the surplus money for any long-range public works program because "earmarking of funds by one legislature would not be binding on the next."

Of the $16,900,000 year-end surplus Staples predicted, only about $8,000,000 would have accrued during the 1943-44 biennium, with nearly $9,000,000 left over from the previous biennium.

He forecast total general revenue for this biennium would be about $118,240,000 compared with receipts of about $108,000,000 in 1941-42.

runways, although a little bumpy are better now than several ports which are supposed to be completed. Post war air transportation will be terrific, and towns the size of Sedalia and as small as 5,000 population will be lost without an airport," he added.

Foresees More Air Travel

"I do considerable traveling by air. It saves me time, gives me a better coverage of my territory. I venture to say a large percentage of traveling men will be using the air lanes for travel after the war."

"What pleased me most on today's trip was the fact I saved two hours of traveling down to Sedalia and will save as much on my return trip," the traveling-by-air salesman concluded.

Sorency has been a pilot since 1930, and for several months was a civilian instructor in the War Training Service, training army and navy cadets studying to be pilots.

from the quartermaster and medical corps. The army's supply will be based on current inventories and the needs for use in the war against Japan."

Speaking of the army's current critical needs, the general stated that "rubber and tires are No. 1 problems this minute. Other needs are for heavy trucks, artillery and ammunition."

"So successful was heavy artillery in digging the Germans out in Italy that we want to use as much as we can. The problem everywhere is one of manpower. The secretary of war said recently that winning the war is going to require relentless pressure and that means unflinching supply."

Move Island To Island

"We're moving island to island in one month now where our schedule called for two months. We're sweeping forward faster than ever before. Until Germany surrenders our job at home is getting bigger every day."

"We need punch now to put the ball over. We're on the 10-yard line as far as Germany is concerned and we don't want to fall down on the three-yard line."

Somervell said Germany "has been hurt badly by attacks on her oil refineries and plants" and "there is hardly an Axis activity that hasn't been attacked. Japan, however, still is getting plenty of oil."

During afternoon the visiting military personnel watched a demonstration of fire-fighting technique by post engineers in extinguishing fires set in wrecked, unsalvageable fuselages of two Liberator bombers on the parade ground.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson will speak on Saturday's program.

battlefront, except for one day during the past two weeks.

The daylight raids followed a night of activity by Italy-based bombers, which hammered the Romanian oil center of Ploesti while home-based RAF Mosquitos pestered Stuttgart for the third time in four nights.

The German radio said Bucharest was bombed also last night. Because weather prevented an accurate assessment of damage, the official announcement described the Allied daylight targets only as "military objectives in central Germany."

The German radio said the bombers flew in over Franconia, Thuringia and Saxony, which would carry them at least to the areas of Leipzig and Magdeburg, location of important Nazi aircraft and ball bearing plants.

Bomber formations were reported winging out from Britain at intervals throughout the forenoon, and since no Liberators were in the task force raiding Germany, it was possible that the B-24's operated separately against some other sector of Nazi Europe.

Believe Byrnes to Quit Public Life

By Harold Oliver

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(P)—After nearly 30 years in the center of the Washington political whirligig — and a brief turn on the U. S. supreme court — James F. Byrnes, 65 year old hustling South Carolinian, is believed by his friends to be preparing to step quietly out of public life.

Smiling Jimmy, after 12 years a senator and 14 years a member of the house, went on the highest court of the land a few years ago, believing he was "fixed for life." Came the war and President Roosevelt, who had called on his friend many times in the past to do trouble-shooting for him, drafted him once more.

He took Byrnes off the court and made him director of the office of war mobilization, the most powerful wartime job ever held by a civilian in the nation's history except that of the chief executive

THE SCENE: A U. S. Army hospital in a little native village in the heart of Algeria about the time of the American landings in North Africa.

THE NAZI TALK

THE Nazis were lying in clean beds, as neatly bandaged and cared for as our own soldiers would be. A chart with the patient's name, injury, and condition hung over the foot of each cot: Hans Geyer, 18, private, compound fractures of both legs; Fredrick Uebele, 19, private, second degree burns; Horst Von Eberswalde, 22, lieutenant, direct hit in abdominal region.

They were dozing and didn't notice my entrance. A candle on the nurse's table was flaring ghostlike, and threw a flickering light over the three pale faces. I studied these boyish men, all of which looked strangely alike in that they were devoid of all human sensitivity, hardened and blank like a plaster mask of a modeled warrior.

How could I make the Boches talk without talking to them? I thought of many tricks, but rejected them all. A trick has only a momentary effect. What I needed was a night-long result. Finally I had an idea and ran to Dr. Merrill.

"Why not give them benzidine?"

Dr. Merrill laughed, "Do you want to be promoted to the Intelligence Service?" But he gave me three pills.

I started with Private Hans Geyer, holding a glass of water

White House dinner that the two best vice presidential candidates were Senator Truman of Missouri and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. Nothing was then decided as to which was preferable.

How Hannegan got Truman Letter
Later, Chairman Hannegan, who was charged with running the first under his nose. "Hello, you. Come to. Take it."

I avoided saying drink it, as "drink" is too similar to the German trink.

He looked at me with distrust and shook his head. "Don't be silly," I said. "It will make you feel better."

The lieutenant opened his eyes and asked what was the matter. He had a pungent north German accent. Every word was a staccato order.

"Die will mich vergiften," said Geyer. "She wants to poison me!" "Feigling!" the lieutenant scorned. "Coward!"

"Aber man hat uns doch gesagt, dass der Feind alle Gefangenen totet." "But we have been told that the enemy kills all prisoners!"

"I would risk it," volunteered the other private, "if the Herr Lieutenant agrees."

Hans Geyer swallowed the medicine with defiance of death as his superior nodded.

"YOU all will get it," I said and tried to make myself understood in sign language. "It is good."

"Gut hat sie gesagt," repeated the lieutenant. "Vielleicht ist es wahr."

They took the medicine without further remark. I went back to my stool, watching them.

After awhile the lieutenant said, "I truly feel better. How are you?"

"Great!" said the man with the second degree burns. "But terribly thirsty."

"You may ask her for water," the lieutenant allowed.

"Bitte, wasser," said Uebele in a voice that didn't permit refusal.

I forced myself to pretend not to understand, and didn't move, though water and wasser have the same Anglo-Saxon root.

The private pantomimed the movement of drinking with the hollow of his hands, and called, "Hallo, hallo, Schwester."

"Sie heisst 'noers,'" said the lieutenant.

"Noers," repeated the private, "noers, komm."

I went over and acted as though I had finally caught on.

"She is very stupid," said Hans Geyer, "but I feel marvelous. I think I could walk off right now."

"If one of us is well enough to escape, he has the order to do it," said the lieutenant. "Remember that."

"Jawohl, Herr Lieutenant," the two privates said in chorus.

"It won't be difficult to escape from here; the village is near and you can hide in an Arab's house, steal Arab clothes and act like a native. You were told how to do it, remember?"

"Jawohl, Herr Lieutenant."

"Never forget, that a German soldier is 10 times superior to an American. The enemy isn't shrewd. He hasn't any battle experience. You are superior to any other soldier in the world."

"Jawohl, Herr Lieutenant."

AFTER a while the lieutenant asked if Geyer or Uebele knew where they were, but they didn't. It had been too dark to read any sign when they were brought in.

"I wonder how far it is from Sidi bel Gavar," mused the lieutenant. "It probably would be too risky to ask the nurse."

"Perhaps not," said Uebele, "she looks rather dumb." He spoke a broad, drawled south German dialect which counter-pointed the sharp Prussian voice of his officer in a peculiar way.

"You can try tomorrow, Uebele, not now. But do it very casually, inconspicuously. We have an influential man there. He is paid to be helpful to us."

"What's his name?" asked Geyer.

"I won't tell it now; she might catch on and spill it, trying to be smart. I'll tell you sometime when we are alone."

That was like an order for me not to leave the room till I got that name and all my thoughts circled about the one problem: how to make him talk.

How Gideon's Psychological Warfare Routed the Foe and Delivered Israel
Text: Judges 7:4-7, 15-21

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
For faith in God and in a cause, for cool courage, and for ingenious strategy the story of Gideon is unique in the annals of warfare. The story of Gideon's call to lead and deliver Israel is very much like that of Moses. He felt his own unworthiness. He shrank from undertaking the task. He had personal embarrassments, for his father was a participant in the idolatry that had brought Israel again into bondage and deep adversity. His first duty was to overthrow the altar of Baal which his father had set up and to set up an altar to God in its place.

The hosts of Midian and their allies, when Gideon went to spy them out, "lay along the valley like grasshoppers for multitude." The sight might have made a brave man give up in despair. But fortified by a dream and its interpretation, Gideon determined his course and planned his strategy.

He knew that to oppose these hosts in open combat with these few men was hopeless. But he knew that great armies can be stampeded with fear. He was a keen psychologist ages before the days of psychology. With his small army he took the amazing course of making it even smaller. He wanted only men of speed, dependability and resourcefulness. The method he took of selection in reducing his army was as remarkable as his strategy. When the men went down to drink he discarded the leisurely drinkers who stooped down and took their time, choosing only the quick men of action who lapped up a hasty drink with their hands and returned to duty. But 300 courageous men were little against that multitude in the valley. Gideon armed his men with amazing weapons — lamps, pitchers and trumpets. With lamps hidden in the pitchers orders were for the 300 at the given signal to blow on the trumpets, smash the pitchers, and let the lamps shine. The noise and lights gave the effect of a great army approaching for battle. Fear did the work that Gideon expected. The great hosts in the valley were thrown into consternation, stampeded with the sudden discovery of a great army coming upon them and finding them unprepared. They broke and ran in complete rout.

The test of a commander is not in the hour of advantage or victory, but in the follow-up. Many a victory has been lost because the victor thought it was all over and let his enemy escape. Not so, Gideon. As the host fled Gideon's men really got into action. They turned the rout into a complete destruction.

The times were rough and cruel, and the whole story of Gideon is not so noble. He took the reward for himself and his men the golden earrings and chains of his well-equipped and defeated enemy.

Judges 8:27 would seem to suggest that from the gold he made an idol, or that Israel made an idol of the Ephod into which he melted the gold. The record of the later years is not clear. But the story of Gideon's boldness and courage, his determined faith and strategy, stands in full grandeur.

Would tactics like Gideon's succeed today? Could 300 men, even complete in their fearlessness and firmness, accomplish anything against modern armies of tanks, great guns and the whole array of divisions in full equipment? Apparently not. Brave men have been wiped out by superior forces. But it is the spirit of Gideon and his men that still wins battles.

Returning Service Men

Increasing interest is being shown in the problem of re-integrating service men into civilian life after the war. The church's responsibility in this problem is especially important, since many of those who return will face moral difficulties and temptations that may seriously affect their future.

One of the church's roles will be to seek out the men in need of advice and help in building a new life in the community. Many will be discouraged by difficulties in securing work; others may be burdened by psychological stresses that call for patient and understanding treatment. All will need to know that the church is a friend anxious and willing to help.

It will be well for mothers and wives, especially, to realize that the son or husband who comes back from the rigors and dangers of war may have undergone a change in personality that calls for wise and sympathetic understanding. Men who have grown accustomed to the tempo of military life may grow restless and discontented in the humdrum routine of civilian life; may at times be morose and irritable may develop moods of gloomy introspection.

Such reactions are neither unusual nor abnormal. They were common among soldiers after the last war. They are merely the accompaniments of efforts to find a new place in life, to pick up the threads of the past, to grapple with new responsibilities. They should cause neither surprise nor undue concern. All that is really necessary is to make the soldier realize that he is actually home again; and that home means a future bright with hope and promise.

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 30, 1944. Golden Text: Jeremiah 9:24. Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases" (Ps. 103: 2, 3). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If God heals not the sick, they are not healed, for no lesser power equals the infinite All-powerer; but God, Truth, Life, Love, does heal the sick through the prayer of the righteous" (p. 231).

Mort Cooper
In Another Shutout
Eleven Wins Out of Twelve Starts Since
May 28; 5 Shutouts

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Rookies come and rookies go but Mort Cooper's powerful right arm still represents much of the pitching strength of the pennant-bound
St. Louis Cardinals.
The husky Red Bird from Webster Groves staggered through the early season and was battered off the hill three times in a row as he took a back seat to George Mun-ger, Harry Brecheen and the veteran Max Lanier.
Mort answered the "What's the matter with Cooper?" remarks by opening a spurt on May 28 that has produced 11 wins in 12 starts and boosted him into a tie with Bucky Walters of the Red Birds for most shutouts with five.
As the Cards opened up a 14½ game lead on Cincinnati, their longest margin of the year, Cooper hurled a two-hit shutout against the Phils for a 5-0 decision over Ken Raffensberger, after Harry Brecheen had wobbled in an 8-7 verdict over Bill Lee in the opener of a double.

In Cooper's sensational string,
the Cards have scored 108 runs, an average of nine per game, including such lopsided totals as 18-0, 16-0 and 10-2. Chicago, beating 11 times in a row by St. Louis, is the only National League team Cooper has not stopped in boosting his win record to 13-4. He was belted out by the Cubs in a game eventually taken 10-9, and did a relief chore that brought no reward.
Ray Mueller's double in the 8th inning boosted Cincinnati back into second place by a 4-2 nod over Boston. Pittsburgh was rained out at New York, as was Chicago at Brooklyn. Rookie Jim Konstanty did the pitching for the Reds to decision reliever Ira Hutchinson.
The St. Louis Browns missed a chance to boost their lead when Sig Jakucki was upset by the Athletics, 7-5. Dick Siebert's two-run homer in the first helped start the A's to a 16-hit barrage behind Russ Christopher.
Cleveland dropped the New York Yankees into a second-place tie with Boston by pounding Walt Dubiel for an 8-1 score as Allie
"Chief" Reynolds did a good job of scattering 11 blows.
Boston moved up by trimming
Detroit, 6-1, on Tex Hughson's six-hitter, earning him the honor of becoming the first big leaguer to win 16 this season.
Orval Grove of the White Sox went the route for the first time in eight starts to shut out Washington, 4-0.

does pretty well on canvas, too.
Recently high school students of Rock Springs, Wyo., raised $135
to buy two of the former Illinois
mentor's paintings.
They sent the dough, and it
pleased old Zup so much that he packed up the paintings, expressed 'em westward, and sent the $135 back to the kids, too.

Will Pay $15.00 each

Sports Roundup
By Fritz Howell
(Pinch-hitting for Hugh Fullerton Jr.)
NEW YORK, July 28.—(P)—
He's been 1-A in the draft four times, and 4-F four times but he's the hottest hitter in the American league. We mean Al Zarilla, the St. Louis Browns' outfielder who has whacked back and forth between the club house and his draft board so often that he hardly has had time to get into a baseball uniform.
Two weeks ago, operating mostly as a pinch-hitter, he had a batting average of .204. Then he blazed into the starting lineup, and in nine games has fashioned 15 hits in 24 times at bat, boosting his mark to .286. Sprinkled among the 15 bingles were three doubles, a triple and two homers. During the spree he scored four runs and batted in 10. He may be 4-F to the army, but he's A-1 with the Browns. He's hitting .625 for the nine contests.
A Budding Dodger
Claude Crocker, North Carolina
pitching prodigy, reported to the Brooklyn bums a day or two ago in need of work. Due to college exams he hadn't pitched a ball in a month.
"I thought I was in shape until I lost a running race out there in the outfield," puffed the youngster. "But I'm not used to running that way. I used to be a wingback, and I'm used to cutting to my left."

Same Old Zuppke
Bob Zuppke, who painted some of the most glowing scenes ever enacted on Big Ten gridirons,
does pretty well on canvas, too.
Recently high school students of
Rock Springs, Wyo., raised $135
to buy two of the former Illinois

They sent the dough, and it
pleased old Zup so much that he
packed up the paintings, expressed 'em westward, and sent the $135 back to the kids, too.

Firemen Called To Put Out Blaze In Motorcycle

At 7:27 o'clock Thursday night the fire departments were called to the 1400 block on South Sneed avenue where a backfire from a motorcycle had ignited the motor and caused damage which, it was estimated, would require $30 for repair.

The cycle was a 1940 Indian, owned by Clifford Sovel, of the SAAF. It was being ridden by a friend, who had the blaze almost under control when the trucks arrived.

WAC Recruiter Killed In Crash

STILLWATER, Okla., July 28.—(P)—An Air-WAC recruiter from the Oklahoma City Air Service Command and the pilot of an A-24 dive bomber were reported killed Thursday when their plane crashed into a Stillwater street.

The WAC identified by army public relations officers as Pvt. Marjorie Babinetz, who had been appearing as "The G. I. Jane in the airplane" in daily recruiting broadcasts from the plane heard over an Oklahoma City radio station.

The pilot was 2nd Lt. James Q. Howey, Parsons, Kas.

The crash occurred during stunting over Stillwater that followed their 2:15 to 2:30 p. m. broadcast. They were to have appeared in Stillwater for recruiting interviews from 3:30 to 8:30 p. m. in a program similar to the one they have been conducting each day over other Oklahoma towns.

The plane sheared a garage and a tree as it crashed into the 1000 block of Seventh Avenue here.

Dog Leaves $30,000 Estate

TOMAHAWK, Wis., July 28.—(P)—A small white dog named Pet had ended nine years of independent wealth and gone where all small white dogs go, leaving an estate of $30,000 earmarked for the care of less fortunate pooches.

Pet, whose rise to fortune began when Miss Margaret McDermont of Chicago rescued a forlorn soiled, waif from a crowded grocery store, was vacationing near here in the care of Mrs. George A. Trude, widow of a former Chicago superior court judge, when the accumulated weariness of 16 years overtook it.

Pet's affluence came in 1935, when Miss McDermont died at 70, leaving her entire estate to the dog, with the directive that at its death the untouched principal of $30,000 be turned over to the anti-cruelty society.

USO Sponsored Picnic Sunday

A picnic sponsored by the Warrensburg and the Sedalia USO's and the Sedalia Army Air Field will be held at Liberty Park Sunday with the program starting at 2:30 o'clock.

The "Jam Session" with music and singing will be held at the band shell at 6:30 o'clock with Miss Lillian Fox as accompanist.

Vesper hour will be at 6:45 o'clock with Rev. H. U. Campbell and Rev. Clyde S. Sherman conducting the service.

Among those on the musical program will be Maurice Fichender, who will play the violin, Dana Numez and Frances Brunkhorst as soloists, and a trio from Warrensburg, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Mudge. The musical program is under the direction of Miss Frances Brunkhorst.

Picnic arrangements are being made by Miss Dorothy Bacon, president of the Sedalia GSO and the food committee of which Mrs. Ann Brown is chairman and Miss Lucille Faust is assistant chairman.

Capt. Stillwell will be in charge of a swimming demonstration by the personnel of the base.

Miss Dorothy Mudge is director of the Warrensburg USO and Miss Anna Margaret McDonald is the secretary.

Girls Tennis Nears Finals

The girls tennis tourney being sponsored by the USO is nearing the finals. Mrs. Korando is scheduled to meet Miss Stanfield in one of the semi-finals, while Miss Burford advanced to the finals bracket by defeating Mrs. Emery in the other semi-finals. The finals match will be played next week.

The annual picnic of Pettis Chapter No. 279, O. E. S. will be held at Liberty Park, Friday evening, July 28 at 7 p. m. All members and their families are cordially invited to attend. Come and bring a well filled picnic basket. Iced tea and ice cream will be furnished. Please bring your own service and sugar for iced tea.

Centennial at County Line

First Place of Worship There Was In a Log House

An all-day centennial worship service, with a basket dinner at noon, will be observed Sunday by members of County Line Baptist church, seven miles northwest of LaMonte, in commemoration of the organization of the church in March, 1844, at the home of Col. William Thornton near the line between Johnson and Pettis counties.

The original presbytery was composed of Elders Joseph White and Thornton Rucker with Samuel Fisher as clerk. At the first meeting following the organization, Thornton Rucker was elected pastor. The Rev. David Beebe is the present minister.

No record was kept of services held during the war, from 1860 to 1867, but on September 23, 1866, 13 members met, agreed to bury all differences caused by the conflict, and renewed covenant relations.

First Church Log House

The first church building, a log house, was erected in 1847. The present building was dedicated in May, 1871, Rev. Caldwell preaching the dedication sermon. At that meeting N. J. Smith organized the Sunday school.

A debt of $500 on the building at the time of dedication was liquidated by the senior deacon, William Thornton, when on his death bed he freed the church of encumbrance.

The value of this church, which is termed the community's greatest asset, to the citizens is summed in the congregation's statement, "Since the church has been successful the people have been successful."

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bryan of Ottaville have received word that their son, T/Sgt. Virgil J. Bryan, flying fortress aerial engineer, has been awarded the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster for meritorious achievements in bombing missions over Germany's occupied Europe.

Cpl. Irvin E. Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cramer, Sedalia, route five, has been transferred from Kelley Field, Tex., to Brookley Field, Mobile, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Martin, 2101 East Twelfth street, have received a letter from their son, Sgt. Walter W. Martin, who has been stationed in England and is now somewhere in France.

Sues For Damages Over Car Accident

A suit for damages was filed in the office of Bryan Howe, circuit clerk, Thursday, by John Meyers, taxicab driver, against Albert and Inez Cramer, route 1, Smithton. The suit was brought as a result of an automobile collision on July 13.

The suit charges that as Meyers was driving east on Second street, his automobile and the Cramer car, being driven by Inez Cramer, collided when the latter car pulled out from the curb in front of him in a "negligent" manner.

Damages in the amount of $107.27 are asked, including the repair bill on the taxicab and the amount of deprivation of earnings during the time the repairs were being made.

The plaintiff is represented by Montgomery, Martin and Salveter.

Lieut. J. B. Bernard Is Given Promotion

A letter received by Mrs. Joseph B. Bernard of the Dean apartments from her husband informs her that he has been promoted from the rank of second lieutenant to that of first lieutenant. Lieut. Bernard, of the U. S. Army Transportation Corps, has been in England the past eight months.

Point Values To Continue

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(P)—Current point values on all rationed meats and dairy products will be continued until at least August 13, the Office of Price Administration announced.

The decision was in effect a postponement for two weeks of the War Food Administration's recent directive ordering OPA to remove most beef steaks and roasts from rationing by August 1. The directive also "authorized" restoration of point values of pork loins and hams.

OPA protested that enforcement of the directive would disrupt cattle prices and flood the retail market with an excess of ration points.

The WFA order directed elimination of point values on commercial and utility grades of beef steaks and roasts, leaving only the two top grades—choice and good—under rationing. The supply of beef available to the public is made up mostly of the commercial and utility grades.

The controversy between the two agencies is now before Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson and War Mobilization Chief James F. Byrnes for settlement.

As a result of the dispute, the printing of August meat and processed food point charts for retail stores has been delayed. OPA said they could not be distributed before August 13.

OPA spokesmen hinted that while no new processed food charts will be distributed immediately, two or three changes in point values on canned foods probably will be announced later this week. The changes will be effective Sunday, the day any revision in the meats-fats point values normally would have been put into effect.

OPA also announced that three more ten-point red stamps—A-5, B-5 and C-5—in ration book four will become valid Sunday for buying meats, fats and dairy products. They will be indefinitely.

Girls Softball Tourney Planned

A softball tourney for girls teams is planned for next week under auspices of the local USO. One more team is needed to make an even number of entries and any team interested should get in touch with the USO, telephone 450, by Saturday (tomorrow), as drawings will be made and announcement made in Sunday's edition of the paper.

The schedule calls for games on Monday and Friday evenings of next week, 7 p. m. at the high school diamonds. The tourney will probably be a double elimination tourney.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."
"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum...practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have...rubber. The enemy had that."
"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need...you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"
"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."
"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"
